

Barry McGovern is an actor who lived in Dun Laoghaire for over twenty five years. He was educated at Castleknock College and UCD (B.A. 1970).

He has been a member of the RTE Players, the Abbey Theatre Company and the Irish Theatre Company on whose board he served. He was a member of the Arts Council from 1984 to 1988. His two one-man Beckett shows I'll Go On and Watt have toured internationally. He has taught at the University of California (Davis) and at Notre Dame. In 1998 he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Letters by Trinity College Dublin.