Someone Who'll Watch Over Me

DECADENT THEATRE

By Frank McGuinness

Thu 1 – Sat 3 March, 8pm | €20/18

Inspired by the abduction of Brian Keenan, taken hostage in Lebanon in the 1980s, this is Frank McGuinness' hymn to the defiant power of the human spirit and the creative imagination.

A timeless Irish classic by one of our most celebrated writers, Someone Who'll Watch Over Me was awarded the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for Best Foreign Play and nominated for the Tony Award for Best Play when it first premiered in 1992.

This year, Decadent Theatre will present a revival of this highly acclaimed production starring Diarmuid De Faoite, Dara Devaney and Simon Coury.

Adam, an American doctor, Edward, an Irish journalist, and Michael, an English academic, have little to unite them beyond being human in the same small space. Yet somehow, together, they determine to ward off madness and forestall despair. Somewhere lurk their unseen captors yet, in the cell, there are stories of adventure and love, there is song and laughter, and even a surge of writing, cocktail-drinking and movie-making.

A modern day adventure for all, Star Chasers sees Billy and Dad heading north with just a tent and a box full of Mam's memories.

On the way they pitch their tent, conjure Mam's stories and quarrel as they seek journey's end and a new beginning.

This is a rich exploration of the relationship between a parent and child and their attempts to come to terms with the shared loss in their lives. A tapestry of music, movement and magical imagery.
