The Impressionists and the Man Who Made Them

CINEMA

Thu 5 Sep, 8pm | €12/10

Duration: 90mins

Uncover the story of art's greatest revolutionaries; Cezanne, Monet, Degas and their compatriots. But just who were they really? Why and how did they paint? What lies behind their enduring appeal? To help answer these questions, this stunningly captured documentary has secured unique access to a major new exhibition focusing on the 19th Century Parisian art collector Paul Durand-Ruel, the outspoken champion of Impressionism. This revealing film features some of the Impressionists' most famous works as well as diary extracts and insights from Durand-Ruel and the artists.

Walt Disney's

Lady and the Tramp

CINEMA & FAMILY

Sat 7 Sep, 2pm

Child €6, Adult €8.50 | Family Ticket: €25

English | Cert: G | 1955 | 76min

This classic Walt Disney tale features exquisite animation, unforgettable songs and one of the greatest love stories of all time.

The film follows the adventures of a young cocker spaniel from a respectable house, and her romantic escapades with Tramp, a devil-may-care mutt from the wrong side of the railroad tracks. Together they have several memorable outings, including a romantic moonlit spaghetti dinner at Tony's, but things go seriously awry when Lady ends up being thrown in the dog pound.

A few weeks before his death, Seamus Heaney signed off on his translation of Book VI of Virgil's epic twelve-volume poem. In the two-thousand-year-old verse, Aeneas journeys to the Underworld in search of the shade of his father and other ghosts from his life. Published after his death, Heaney's lifetime's craft culminates in his masterful and tender translation.

In their intimate realisation of it, Stephen Rea reads the text and Neil Martin underscores on cello – mostly together, though at times we hear just the words, at others just the music. It was commissioned by Kilkenny Arts Festival in 2016 with subsequent performances in Dublin and New York. Stephen Rea and Neil Martin have been collaborating for thirty years, first sharing a stage (with Seamus Heaney, inter alia) in 1988 on a Field Day Theatre Company event.

THEATRE

By Michael Patrick & Oisín Kearney
Directed by Jim Culleton

What if Ireland was still part of the United Kingdom? What if Home Rule had passed? What if there was no War of Independence? No Civil War? No partition? What if the island had only one soccer team?

The year is 2019 and it is the eve of the Referendum. British Prime Minister Ursula Lysaght is returning to her hometown of Dublin to convince voters to Remain. With the threat of chaos in the streets, and personal conflict behind the scenes, the final debate is set to begin at BBC Dublin: Should Ireland leave the UK?

This new play from two of Ireland's most exciting, emerging playwrights Michael Patrick and Oisín Kearney (My Left Nut) is the chosen play from Fishamble's 'A Play for Ireland' initiative.

Cast: Karen Ardiffe, Lorcan Cranitch, Maeve Fitzgerald, Fionntán Larney, Rory Nolan, Rachel O'Byrne & Arthur Riordan

In association with Draiocht, The Everyman, Lime Tree Theatre/ Belltable, Lyric Theatre, Pavilion Theatre, and Town Hall Theatre. Fishamble's 'A Play for Ireland' initiative is supported by Tesco Finest and Transportation Partner Irish Rail.

Scotsman Fringe First Award, Edinburgh Fringe Festival 2016

Following sell-out runs at Edinburgh Festival Fringe and London's National Theatre, this multiaward-winning production comes to Pavilion Theatre as part of Dublin Theatre Festival.

In September 2004, the greatest of evils (terrorists) chose the greatest of good (a group of children) as their victim. For three days, 1,200 people were held hostage by terrorists in a school in Beslan, a small town near the Russia and Chechnya border.

Retold from the perspective of two fictional characters, a young boy and girl, Us/Them is not a straightforward account of this tragedy but is about the entirely individual way children cope with extreme situations.

A thrilling piece of international theatre that uses both humour and a matter-of-fact approach, combined with dynamic physical storytelling and breathtaking choreography to strikingly show that for children, things which seem incomprehensible in the eyes of adults have their own logic.

River Man: The Nick Drake Project (Fear na hAbhann: Tionscadal Nick Drake)

MUSIC

Wed 23 Oct, 8pm | €25/23

Nick Drake was unique and his achingly beautiful songs owed as much to the bucolic tradition of Vaughan Williams as the blues. At the time of his tragic death in 1974, he had only released three albums – Five Leaves Left, Bryter Lyter and Pink Moon. His lyrics were infused with the moods of 19th Century romantic poetry and explored themes of love, yearning and self-identity.

River Man (Fear na hAbhann) takes us into “an infinity of autumns” with Drake’s songs performed by Liam Ó Maonlaí (vocals, piano), Neil Martin (cello), and Peter O’Toole (guitar).

The lyrics have been translated into Irish by Gabriel Rosenstock, with screen projections by Margaret Loneragan.

What is friendship? What happens when it goes wrong? What do you have to do to make it work?

Henry and Bucket are best pals, although sometimes you wouldn't think so! Like all good friends they have their ups and downs, their battles and reconciliations, their shared adventures and, at times, their need for their own space.

But as long as these two friends are together, transforming their rusty, dusty, battered and bockety world into a place of wonder, their adventures can take them anywhere!

Through Henry and Bucket's relationship we can examine what friendship is, what happens if it goes wrong and how you fix it. Poetic, humorous and rich in visual antics, this play explores friendship through a day in the life of two friends who have been likened to a modern-day Laurel and Hardy.

Thu 21 & Fri 22 Nov, 8pm | Matinee: Sat 23 Nov, 2pm

€25/23 | Group Rates Available

A parent-teacher meeting goes very wrong in this hit play about learning difficulties in school, in life, wherever.

Brian and Donna's son is nine years old, and he's struggling. That's what his teacher says. Says he should see a psychologist. But Brian and Donna – recently separated – never liked school, never liked teachers.

So are they going to trust this one? And should they?

CLASS is an explosive confrontation in a classroom over learning difficulties, love and entitlement. Funny, heartbreaking and beautifully observed, this is new Irish writing at its fines

After becoming the hit of Dublin Theatre Festival 2017 with rave reviews, the show went on to play sold-out runs at the Abbey Theatre, Galway International Arts Festival and Edinburgh Fringe in 2018.

"Hugely entertaining and immaculately performed scenes from a school room" The Irish Times

"With an outstanding cast, a laugh-out-loud yet gut-wrenching story this thoroughly enjoyable show reflects our fractured zeitgeist brilliantly" The Sunday Times

Des Bishop

Take the Points

Sat 23 Nov, 8pm | €25

COMEDY

Take the Points – good advice on the pitch but an even better metaphor for life. How hard can it be for a man to say “point taken”?

Des Bishop’s new show tries to digest the incredible changes we have seen in society in the last year and a half. #MeToo, consent, Trump, the 8th and how divided everyone is online. Everyone welcome: snowflakes, the easily offended, those that complain about people being offended, PC and non-PC people, religious people and atheists.

★★★★ “Hilariously funny” The Scotsman

Donizetti’s Don Pasquale

Sun 24 Nov, 5pm | €15/13

Sung in Italian with English subtitles

Approx. Duration: 150mins

CINEMA
& MUSIC

Royal Opera favourite Bryn Terfel heads a star cast for this new production of Donizetti’s comedy of domestic drama across two generations. The witty story of a middle-aged man whose supposed young wife runs rings around him has long delighted and surprised audiences, not least as presented with the sparkle of its music and the virtuoso skill of its performers.

Damiano Michieletto’s exhilarating production shows how contemporary the characters still are and how immediate and touching the story remains.

LOCAL &

Young European Strings School of Music return for another dazzling musical celebration to lead you into the festive season.

Enjoy an afternoon with the entire family listening to the exquisite music from the film Scent of a Woman, presented by professional tango dancers with live music played by YESCO soloist Ronald Masin (violin). New young star violinists, Daimee Ng, Eabha Foy, Kathryn King and many more string players aged between 4 and 18 years will also perform.

CINEMA

Pierre-Auguste Renoir is known and loved for his Impressionist paintings of Paris, counted among the world's favourites. Renoir, however, grew tired of this style and changed course later in his career. This stunning film examines the direction he then took and why it provokes such extreme reactions right up to today.

The film is a fresh new biography of this artistic giant but more than that it uncovers a rarely told story that places Renoir as a critical link between the old and the new.

MUSIC

ABBA Forever returns to Pavilion Theatre for another Christmas night out, featuring all the iconic hits including Mamma Mia, Dancing Queen, Fernando and many more.

This sing-along tribute celebrates the Eurovision winners with a spot-on sound and some stunning audio-visuals of ABBA's seminal moments.

"Does your mother know?" If not, tell her! It's the perfect way to start your Christmas celebrations. So get your glad rags on, brush up on the lyrics, don the dancing boots and come to the best party in town!
