APPLICATION FORM

Pavilion's Gallery Space © Dónal Kennedy

The Award

The Pavilion Theatre Studio Space Award is intended to enable artists and makers in theatre and dance to research and develop new work over a period of up to four weeks, through the provision of a dedicated work-space in Pavilion's Gallery space.

Applicants may apply for a minimum of two weeks and a maximum of four weeks time-slot, to fall ~~in~~ 8 8 4 , as available. The space is offered free of charge. A member of Pavilion's team will be assigned as liaison to connect awardees to the programme of Pavilion Theatre

Based in Pavilion's Gallery space, the Award provides a free, good-sized, bright work-space at Pavilion Theatre overlooking Marine Road and Dún Laoghaire Harbour. The space can accommodate individuals and small companies. It is not suitable for sets or large props. The Theatre is two minutes from Dún Laoghaire Dart station and adjacent to many coffee houses, restaurants and shops. The space has wireless broadband.

Terms & Conditions

Successful proposals are likely to attend carefully to the congruence of the work proposed with the nature of Pavilion's programming and the work proposed may be of interest to Pavilion in terms of future co-commissioning or co-producing. A condition of funding will be appropriate acknowledgment of Pavilion in any work produced or presented. Awards will be made at the discretion of Pavilion Theatre and specific terms and conditions will be defined for each successful application to include:

- communications/liaison with Pavilion
- scheduling/conditions of time and access to space
- credits and acknowledgement of Pavilion.

Criteria:

 - b. a credible project time-frame and budget
 - c. capacity to communicate and dialogue with Pavilion or its representatives
 - d. evidence of support including for example letters, references, referees.

Quotes from previous Awardees

“The award was essential to me in re-drafting my play. This is my first play as a solo writer and it has been incalculably valuable that I was given a space in Pavilion in which I could both work with the actors and also use as a space in which to write. I could not have progressed without this support and on a personal level, without the encouragement and generosity I received” - Janet Moran, actor and playwright

We spent one week in Pavilion Theatre's Gallery space, developing ideas for a new children's show. We presented a work-in-progress in the Gallery at the end of the week, along with a talkback session. This was a wonderful opportunity for us to test ideas and to receive feedback for further development in an environment that favoured experimentation and welcomed conversation between us and test audiences - Mollie Molumby, Bombinate Theatre

I found the space more than suited to my needs: a large, comfortable workspace complete with a desk, Wi-Fi access and a beautiful view of the old Town Hall - Cathal McGuire, theatre-maker

The opportunity to utilise this room for a week and a half of rehearsals, finishing with a showing to select audience members had numerous benefits for the redrafting of my work. The space itself provided ample room to move the scenes, testing out their theatricality as well as workshoping them under a variety of scenarios. The room is versatile, it can be set up for a moved reading or cleared so it is just a playing space, and the view of the ocean provides its own inspiration. One thing that my cast loved was how easy it was to get to, given that the Dart is just around the corner! - Krystal Sweedman, playwright
